

Recruitment Fraud Warning

There have recently been several recruitment frauds operating in South Africa where individuals are contacting job seekers claiming to represent AGC, offering them roles and then inevitably asking for payments to cover a range of expenses and administration costs.

AGC Recruitment- will never ask for payment at any stage in the recruitment process.

This is a long-established, sophisticated fraud used by criminal gangs which has impacted job seekers looking for roles many reputable organisations.

These communications are fraudulent and do NOT originate from AGC or our recruitment partners.

To avoid falling victim to recruitment fraud:

- Do not to respond to unsolicited offers from people you are unfamiliar with
- Do not disclose personal or financial details to anyone you do not know
- Check any documents for poor grammar and spelling as this is often a warning sign of fraud
- Beware of employers or agents using webmail email addresses such as @Yahoo or @Hotmail
- Hover over email addresses to check the sender's details
- If you are asked for payment of any kind from a recruiter, contact your local police department as this is very likely to be fraud.
